

PLAN AHEAD

Got a large project coming up?

Plan it now.

Get your diary out, think about how long the work will realistically take, and schedule this time.

This avoids last minute panic and helps you manage revision and social time.

Not only that, you'll be practicing skills you'll need for the future, at work or in university.

