Dear Parent/Carer

I am writing to you today regarding a piece of work that we are completing with everyone in the school community during the remainder of this term. As you know, the Hawkley Way has been part of the fabric of our school for many years. The principle of mutual respect is vital and helps remind staff and students of the importance of being kind and supportive of others.

Part of our mission is to maximise the potential of all stakeholders. However, it is crucial that this is underpinned by core values that we all support. These values guide us in our behaviour, attitude, and decisions. When we last reviewed the Hawkley Way in 2020, we decided, in consultation with staff and students that respect, resilience, and aspiration were our key values. These are displayed, discussed, and highlighted as often as possible across the school.

In reviewing these values, we have spoken to staff and students regarding their opinion. Students carried out an activity in the engagement period last week and staff have been asked to consider their own views. I have collated the most popular values and I have identified them in the attached Microsoft Form.

I would appreciate if you could contribute to the process of reviewing our core values by selecting the three values you believe should underpin all our work from the box below. There is also an optional comment box that I have included if you wish to share any observations or alternative values that you believe should underpin our work on this area of school practice. The values identified in the box below were the most popular selected by the students after consultation arrived at after consultation.

Once we have collated and reviewed this information I will present to governors and inform you of any changes to our mission, values, and vision before the end of term.

Yours sincerely

Mr Klinck
