Dear families,

I am writing to introduce myself as the new Headteacher of Hawley Hall High School. I feel that it is a huge privilege to assume the guardianship of this wonderful community and the young people within it. It will be my priority as Headteacher to ensure the best opportunities and highest standards of provision are available to our children. Their happiness, wellbeing, and personal growth will be at the heart of everything we do. My expectations are high, something which I'm sure you will appreciate. As part of the Hawley Hall High School family, your children are very important to us, and we want to ensure that they leave our school equipped with the qualifications to progress onto the next stage of their education. It is of equal importance that we develop their character, resilience and compassion through wider experiences in order to realise their true potential. We can only achieve this with your partnership and support.

I hope that you see the importance of instilling the highest standards to empower our young people and will reinforce this ethos by supporting the school's culture at home. I will be writing to you more over the coming weeks, explaining the school's expectations and offering a number of opportunities to come into school for further information. We are all working towards successful outcomes for our young people, strong relationships between home and school are the most effective way of achieving this, so I want to encourage honest and transparent dialogue from the outset.

I am really looking forward to working with the children and families of Hawley Hall High School to maximise potential through the foundations of respect, kindness and integrity that are the core values of the Rowan Learning Trust. My first week at the school has shown me a welcoming and warm community, full of young people who want to make a difference in this world. It is an exciting time of opportunity for our children, and I feel energised by the potential of what is to come.

Best wishes

Kelly Leonard
